About the job

Job summary

Are you an experienced Software Engineer with OpenText Exstream expertise looking for your next challenge?

Would you like to join our Software Engineering team and help DWP Digital modernise the way it delivers public services?
We're looking for skilled Software Engineers who want to contribute to innovative digital services that support millions of people across the UK. You'll play a key role in transforming public services and delivering accessible, reliable and secure digital solutions that help citizens access vital services.
Our Engineers build and run applications as part of multidisciplinary agile delivery teams. You'll work with a range of technical and business specialists to design, develop and improve services that deliver real value for users.

If you're excited by problem-solving and the opportunity to deliver innovative technology, we'd love to hear from you. You'll be expected to collaborate effectively with others, actively seek input from colleagues and value a multidisciplinary team over hierarchy.

Job description

As a Software Engineer (OpenText Exstream Developer), you will develop and maintain software products that make up citizen and organisation-facing services and contribute towards their design.

You will be responsible for the operational stability of the products you build and be able to effect change in the ongoing robustness and resilience of those products.

You will work within and contribute to the overall software development lifecycle process as part of a multi-functional Agile delivery team focused on one or more products.

As a Software Engineer (OpenText Exstream Developer), you will:

Be involved in developing, testing, implementing, maintaining and supporting applications which produce multi-channel output across a number of DWP services.

Monitor system robustness, resilience and stability, working to migrate from legacy OpenText Exstream to the latest cloud-first solution. Manage and maintain the orchestration within OpenText Communications Builder.

Work as part of multidisciplinary teams, in collaboration with architects and engineers, to design software products that make up services used by millions of people.

Build and consume APIs, with a focus on an API-first design approach.

Collaborate with other areas to help build comprehensive suites of automated tests to improve product quality.

Actively contribute to Agile ceremonies, shaping team decisions and driving continuous improvement.

Be able to balance multiple priorities and meet deadlines in a fast-paced environment.

Demonstrate clear and confident verbal and written communication skills and build strong collaborative relationships across DWP.

Provide technical advice and input into new requirements.

Work closely with Product Owners and Business Analysts to refine and shape requirements.

Help ensure we follow best practice and guide our teams on how to deliver quality software products.

Support Software Engineering teams by providing technical leadership and guidance.

Contribute to setting the strategic direction for the product team and the wider Software Engineering community.

Please note: As part of the role, you may be required to travel regularly to other Digital Hub locations listed in the Location section of this advert. Further details will be discussed with successful candidates.

Person specification

Technical skills

We'll assess you against these technical skills during the selection process:

- Programming and Build

Benefits

Alongside your salary of £45,255, Department for Work and Pensions contributes £13,110 towards you being a member of the Civil Service Defined Benefit Pension scheme. Find out what benefits a Civil Service Pension provides (opens in a new window).

We also have a broad benefits package built around your work-life balance which includes:

- Working patterns to support work/life balance such as job sharing, term-time working, flexi-time and compressed hours.
- Generous annual leave at least 25 days on entry, increasing up to 30 days over time (pro rata for part time employees), plus 9 days public and privilege leave.
- Support for financial wellbeing, including interest-free season ticket loans for travel, a cycle to work scheme and an employee discount scheme.
- Health and wellbeing support including our Employee Assistance Programme for specialist advice and counselling and the opportunity to join HASSRA a first-class programme of competitions, activities and benefits for its members (subscription payable monthly).

Family friendly policies including enhanced maternity and shared parental leave pay after 1 year s continuous service.

Funded learning and development to support progress in your role and career. This includes industry recognised qualifications and accreditations, coaching, mentoring and talent development programmes.

An inclusive and diverse environment with opportunities to join professional and interpersonal networks including Women s Network, National Race Network, National Disability Network (THRIVE) and many more.

Hybrid Working

This role may be suitable for hybrid working, which is where an employee works part of the week in their DWP office and part of the week from home. This is a voluntary, non-contractual arrangement and your office will be your contractual place of work.

If a hybrid working arrangement is suitable for the role and for you, you will normally be required to spend a minimum of 60% of your contracted working hours from your DWP office.

If you have a disability, caring responsibilities, or other circumstances that may affect your ability to meet the minimum office attendance requirement, please discuss this with us using the contact details in this advert.

Salary Information

Pay for this role is from £45,255 to £60,718.

The maximum salary for the grade is £47,362, however a Digital Allowance of up to £13,356 per annum is available for exceptional candidates. Digital Allowance is non-salary, and non-pensionable, and is classed as a temporary allowance. It is reviewed annually where it could be retained, amended, or removed.

Our offer to successful candidates will be based on an assessment of your skills and experience as demonstrated at interview.

Existing Civil Servants who secure a new role on lateral transfer will maintain their current substantive salary.

Existing Civil Servants who gain promotion will move to the bottom of the grade pay scale or receive a 10% increase applied to their current substantive salary, whichever is greater.

Any temporary allowances that you are currently in receipt of will not form part of the calculation to determine your pay. Any allowances that are in payment will cease when you move into your new role.

Things you need to know

Artificial intelligence

Artificial intelligence can be a useful tool to support your application, however, all examples and statements provided must be truthful, factually accurate and taken directly from your own experience. Where plagiarism has been identified (presenting the ideas and experiences of others, or generated by artificial intelligence, as your own) applications may be withdrawn and internal candidates may be subject to disciplinary action. Please see our candidate guidance (opens in a new window) for more information on appropriate and inappropriate use.

Selection process details

This vacancy is using Success Profiles (opens in a new window), and will assess your Experience and Technical skills.

Stage 1: Application

Your application will consist of four parts:

1. A Personal Details application form.

2. Employment history - this should contain your work experience and any skills, qualifications and accomplishments relevant to the jobs you have completed.

3. Personal statement - up to 1000 words. This statement should be used to provide examples of how you meet the essential criteria below:

Knowledge and experience of OpenText Exstream composition and orchestration.

Demonstrable experience in developing on OpenText Server-Base or OpenText Communications cloud-based environments.

Experience of maintaining multiple inputs (such as JSON, XML and DAT) and how OpenText can create a variety of parallel outputs (AFP, PDF, HTML etc.) across a legacy or strategic environment.

Experience using Linux command line tools to develop, build, deploy and troubleshoot applications, including managing files, permissions, processes and system environments.

4. Technical statement (up to 250 words). The following statement is aligned to the required technical skill of Programming and Build. This statement should be used to provide example(s) of how you meet the criterion below:

Please provide evidence of your knowledge and proven experience of developing large-scale systems using open-source technologies and Exstream.

Ensure that all examples provided in your statements are taken directly from your own experience and that you describe the examples in your own words. If you choose to use gen-AI to support your statements, you must follow the guidelines outlined in the Artificial intelligence and recruitment guide.

The sift panel will use the information in your employment history, personal statement, and technical statement to assess your experience, skills and knowledge.

An initial sift will be conducted using the technical statement. Candidates who pass the initial sift will be progressed to a full sift.

If you do progress to a full sift, you will be provided with one combined overall assessment score for both your employment history and Personal Statement.

For Hints and Tips on completing your application visit Applying for jobs at DWP Digital.

Important Information

You will be asked to complete your employment history. Any information that you would customarily share on a CV should therefore be entered onto the application form.

Personal details that could be used to identify you including your name, contact details and address must be removed for your application to be considered.

If your employment history, personal statement or technical statement contain any personal details your application will be withdrawn.

Stage 2: Interview

If you re successful at the sift stage, you ll be invited to a video interview via Microsoft Teams. During the interview, you ll be assessed against the experience criteria listed under both the essential criteria and technical skill.

You will be asked to do a 10 minute presentation on the following topic:

Tell us about a time you worked on a complex project or ticket using OpenText Exstream/Communications that delivered benefits in challenging circumstances.

You may use visual aids, such as PowerPoint slides, to support your presentation, however this is not mandatory.

Interviews will take place from early January 2027. Sift and Interview dates to be confirmed.

Other information:

All successful candidates and those placed on reserve will be posted in merit list order by location.

Please note that for these vacancies we recommend that applicants seek specialist advice on their eligibility for Visa Sponsorship (if applicable) when considering whether to apply for any role. We can never guarantee sponsorship, requests will be considered in line with the relevant DWP guidance and Home Office policy in place at the time.

Further Information

At the Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) we value diversity and inclusion and actively encourage and welcome applications from everyone, including those that are underrepresented in our workforce.

Find out more about working for DWP on the DWP Careers Hub.

Reserve List

A reserve list may be held for a period of 6 months from which further appointments can be made.

If you are placed on a reserve list but we cannot immediately offer you a post, please note:

If you are later offered the role you applied for, in a location you have expressed a preference for, and you decline the offer or are unable to take up the post within a reasonable timeframe you will be withdrawn from the campaign and removed from the reserve list, other than in exceptional circumstances (e.g. a contractual Part Time Working Pattern cannot be accommodated in the initial role offered or in cases of serious ill health).

If DWP makes an offer of an alternative role or location to that which you originally applied for, and you decline that offer, you will be able to remain on the reserve list.

Disability Confident Scheme

If high application volumes are received, the benchmark for candidates to proceed to the next stage may be raised. In line with our commitment to the Disability Confident Scheme (DCS), we aim to advance all candidates applying under the DCS who meet the minimum standard. However, we may only progress those candidates who best meet the required standards.

Reasonable Adjustments

We consider visible and non-visible disabilities, neurodiversity or learning differences, chronic medical conditions, or mental ill health. Examples include dyslexia, epilepsy, autism, chronic fatigue, or schizophrenia.

If you need a change to be made so that you can make your application, you should contact the Government Recruitment Service via DWPRecruitment.grs@cabinetoffice.gov.uk as soon as possible before the closing date to discuss your needs.

Complete the Reasonable Adjustments section in the Additional requirements page of your application form to tell us what changes or help you might need further on in the recruitment process. For instance, you may need wheelchair access at interview, or if you re deaf, a Language Service Professional.

If you are experiencing accessibility problems with any attachments on this advert, please contact the email address in the 'Contact point for applicants' section.

Integrity, plagiarism and Civil Service Principles

The Civil Service values honesty and integrity and expects all candidates to abide by these principles.

Please ensure that all examples provided in your application are taken directly from your own experience and that you describe the examples in your own words.

Examples of plagiarism can include:

- Presenting the work, ideas and experience of others as your own

- Copying content or answers from an online or published source that is not your own

Disclosure and Barring Service and Internal Fraud Database Checks

To process applications without delay, we will be sending a Criminal Record Check to Disclosure and Barring Service on your behalf. However, we recognise in exceptional circumstances some candidates will want to send their completed forms direct. If you will be doing this, please advise Government Recruitment Service of your intention by emailing Pre-EmploymentChecks.grs@cabinetoffice.gov.uk stating the job reference number in the subject heading.

Applicants who are successful at interview will be, as part of pre-employment screening, subject to a check on the Internal Fraud Database (IFD). This check will provide information about employees who have been dismissed for fraud or dishonesty offences. This check also applies to employees who resign or otherwise leave before being dismissed for fraud or dishonesty had their employment continued. Any applicant s details held on the IFD will be refused employment. A candidate is not eligible to apply for a role within the Civil Service if the application is made within a 5 year period following a dismissal for carrying out internal fraud against government.

If successful and transferring from another Government Department, a criminal record check will be carried out.

Important

New entrants are expected to join on the minimum of the pay band.

Before applying for this vacancy, current employees of DWP should check whether a successful application would result in changes to their terms & conditions of employment, e.g. mobility, pay, allowances. If you are a current employee and are successful you must be able to be released from your current post within four weeks.

Those on protected TUPE/ COSoP terms and conditions applying on promotion or voluntary permanent level move will adopt DWP s Terms and Conditions and this may have a different impact on pay and allowances. Please review this prior to acceptance of a role.

Civil Servants that would transfer into DWP from other government organisations, following successful application, will assume DWP's terms & conditions of employment current on the day they are posted, unless DWP has stated otherwise in writing. Accepting a post will be taken to mean acceptance of revised terms & conditions.

Civil Servants applying on promotion will usually be appointed to the salary minimum or within 10% of existing salary.

Any move to DWP from another employer will mean you can no longer access childcare vouchers. This includes moves between government departments. You may, however, be eligible for other government schemes, including Tax Free Childcare. Determine your eligibility at the Childcare Choices Website.

Feedback

Feedback will only be provided if you attend an interview or assessment.

Security

Successful candidates must undergo a basic (or equivalent) criminal record check.

People working with government assets must complete baseline personnel security standard (opens in new window) checks.
