About the job

Job summary

The Government Digital Service (GDS) is the digital centre of government. We are responsible for setting, leading and delivering the vision for a modern digital government.

Our priorities are to drive a modern digital government, by:

1. joining up public sector services
2. harnessing the power of AI for the public good
3. strengthening and extending our digital and data public infrastructure
4. elevating leadership and investing in talent
5. funding for outcomes and procuring for growth and innovation
6. committing to transparency and driving accountability

We are home to the Incubator for Artificial Intelligence (I.AI), the world-leading GOV.UK and at the forefront of coordinating the UK's geospatial strategy and activity. We lead the Government Digital and Data function and champion the work of digital teams across government.

We're part of the Department for Science, Innovation and Technology (DSIT) and employ more than 1,000 people all over the UK, with hubs in Manchester, London and Bristol.

The Government Digital Service is where talent translates into impact. From your first day, you'll be working with some of the world's most highly-skilled digital professionals, all contributing their knowledge to make change on a national scale.

Join us for rewarding work that makes a difference across the UK. You'll solve some of the nation's highest-priority digital challenges, helping millions of people access services they need.

The Portfolio Planning & Performance Unit sits in the Product Strategy, Planning and Portfolio directorate, at the centre of GDS Digital Products. Its purpose is to develop and implement standards and frameworks for strategic planning, performance management, and benefits appraisal, assure the performance of product teams in line with them, and provide strategic insights to the senior leadership team to inform decision making and prioritisation in line with the long-term Product Strategy.

The work of the Portfolio Planning & Performance Unit will be integral to assuring the delivery of GDS Digital Products' s ambitious product roadmap across the next Spending Review period up to 2030, building and rolling out a suite of personalised, joined-up digital public services designed to meet users needs proactively.

The right person will join a motivated and dynamic multi-disciplined team of experts committed to supporting the delivery of our strategic priorities. If you've got a background in data analysis and are used to working in a scaled agile environment then this could be the place for you!

Job description

As a Data Analyst in the Portfolio Planning and Performance Unit, you'll be involved in analysing the performance of the many Product Delivery and Enabling Teams within GDS Digital Products. Your insights will allow GDS Digital Products to evaluate and evidence the value its products provide to users and government, and inform the senior leadership team to make informed, prioritised, evidence-based decisions. You will also shape and analyse operational data captured by the Systems and Data Team's bespoke in-house business management tool, and support the ongoing development of this tool.

You'll be proactive and work effectively in a multidisciplinary agile team to help ensure data is accurate and significant, and then provide analysis and actionable insight through effective storytelling and data visualisation. You'll help deliver analysis and reporting that is automated, reliable and secure and will be able to recommend ways to improve data efficiency and reliability.

As a Data Analyst, you'll:

- build and maintain effective working relationships with business management/operations teams across delivery teams

- analyse both strategic and operational data to produce visualisations and insights about the performance and impact of activity oversee operational data captured by the Systems and Data Team's in-house business management tool be an advocate for developing analysis across the organisation and actively participate in a performance and data analysis community of practice

Person specification

We're interested in people who:

have proven ability and/or experience in conducting data analysis in an analyst role have experience of providing and sharing analytical insight in a clear and concise manner to help stakeholders make informed, evidence-based decisions have strong analytical and problem solving skills, with the ability to interpret complex data sets have experience with data modelling or automation of reporting processes and visualisation, using tools such as PowerBI or similar have excellent communication and stakeholder engagement skills - able to work effectively across teams and functions are comfortable working both independently and as part of a team in a fast-paced environment

Benefits

Alongside your salary of £36,735, Government Digital Service contributes £10,642 towards you being a member of the Civil Service Defined Benefit Pension scheme. Find out what benefits a Civil Service Pension provides.

There are many benefits of working at GDS, including:

flexible hybrid working with flexi-time and the option to work part-time or condensed hours a Civil Service Pension with an average employer contribution of 28.97%

25 days of annual leave, increasing by a day each year up to a maximum of 30 days

an extra day off for the King's birthday an in-year bonus scheme to recognise high performance career progression and coaching, including a training budget for personal development a focus on wellbeing with access to an employee assistance programme job satisfaction from making government services easier to use and more inclusive for people across the UK

advances on pay, including for travel season tickets

death in service benefits cycle to work scheme and facilities access to an employee discounts scheme

10 learning days per year volunteering opportunities (5 special leave days per year)

access to a suite of learning activities through Civil Service learning

Any move to Government Digital Service from another employer will mean you can no longer access childcare vouchers. This includes moves between government departments. You may however be eligible for other government schemes, including Tax Free Childcare. Determine your eligibility at <https://www.childcarechoices.gov.uk>

Office attendance

The Department operates a discretionary hybrid working policy, which provides for a combination of working hours from your place of work and from your home in the UK. The current expectation for staff is to attend the office or non-home based location for 40-60% of the time over the accounting period.

DSIT does not normally offer full home working (i.e. working at home); but we do offer a variety of flexible working options (including occasionally working from home).

Things you need to know

Artificial intelligence

Artificial intelligence can be a useful tool to support your application, however, all examples and statements provided must be truthful, factually accurate and taken directly from your own experience. Where plagiarism has been identified (presenting the ideas and experiences of others, or generated by artificial intelligence, as your own) applications may be withdrawn and internal candidates may be subject to disciplinary action. Please see our candidate guidance \(opens in a new window\) for more information on appropriate and inappropriate use.

Selection process details

The standard selection process for roles at GDS consists of:

- a simple application screening process - We only ask for a CV and cover letter of up to 500 words. Important tip - please ensure that your cover letter includes how you meet the skills and experience listed in the person specification section above
- a 60 minute video interview

Depending on how many applications we get, there might also be an extra stage before the video interview, for example a phone interview or a technical exercise.

In the event we receive a high volume of applications, we will conduct the initial sift against the lead criteria which is:

- have strong analytical and problem solving skills, with the ability to interpret complex data sets
- have experience of providing and sharing analytical insight in a clear and concise manner to help stakeholders make informed, evidence-based decisions

In the Civil Service, we use Success Profiles to evaluate your skills and ability. This gives us the best possible chance of finding the right person for the job, increases performance and improves diversity and inclusivity. We'll be assessing your technical abilities, skills, experience and behaviours that are relevant to this role.

For this role we'll be assessing you against the following Civil Service Behaviours:

- working together
- changing and improving
- making effective decisions
- seeing the bigger picture

We'll also be assessing your experience and specialist technical skills against the following skills defined in the Government Digital and Data Capability Framework for the Data Analyst role:

- Applying statistical and analytical tools and techniques
- Communicating between the technical and non-technical
- Data management
- Data visualisation
- Delivering business impact through data
